

Harbour View Gallery Seeks New Managing Members

Looking for an upscale small gallery to exhibit and sell your artwork without paying the typical high gallery commission?

The Harbour View Gallery, LLC currently is accepting applications for two managing members.

Harbour View Gallery is a cooperative gallery of seven owner-artists representing a wide range of art mediums. The gallery is located in prime retail space on the promenade at the Marina at Cape Harbour and has been in business since October 2007. Along with an ideal location, the gallery's success can be attributed to the quality of art represented in the gallery, the cooperative spirit among the managing members and their shared goal of success.

The expenses and duties of owning and operating the gallery are shared among the managing members. Each member staffs the gallery one day a week, participates in gallery events and business meetings and performs a specific job necessary to run the gallery.

The cost of membership includes a one-time non-refundable initiation fee, monthly dues and a small percentage of each member's monthly sales.

If you are willing to make a two-year commitment of membership and can work at the gallery on either Monday or Saturday each week this might be the place for you.

While all artists may apply, preferential consideration will be given to artists NOT working in photography, pottery, jewelry design, watercolor, mosaic or stained glass as these are mediums represented by current gallery members. The gallery owners are looking for artists with business or managerial skills, sales or public relations experience, and who work well in a shared decision making environment.

Serious applicants can obtain more information about the benefits and requirements of membership from the gallery website: www.harbourviewgallery.com Questions can be sent to art@harbourviewgallery.com or call Shirley Hales, President, at 945-2929.

A Search Committee will screen all applications and will contact those candidates that meet membership requirements to schedule an initial interview.

Thank you for your interest in Harbour View Gallery. We look forward to hearing from you.

The Harbour View Gallery Search Committee